Portraits of Collaboration: Building a Model Program for ELL Students under CR Part 154

MARCH 6, 2017

Plainview Holiday Inn, Plainview, New York
8 am - 1 pm | Registration fee – $150

This workshop will provide participants with a framework for the collaborative development of a model program for ELL Students, and provide tools to assess your district's current program delivery model and make improvements. Participants will gain an understanding of key aspects of CR Part 154, and the role that all stakeholders must play in fulfilling key legal requirements and promoting best practices. Participants will hear from a renowned educator and author, the key state official on ELL policy and practitioners with expertise in implementing model programs.

Presenters:

ANDREA HONIGSFELD, Ed.D.
Educator, Author, and Consultant

ANGELICA INFANTE-GREEN
Deputy Commissioner,
New York State Department of Education
